ENGLAND TAKES COLLEGE SPORT VERY CALMLY

Only A Few Spectators Witnessed The Oxford Edinburgh Battle.

NO PAID COACHES

Contrast In Attendance Is One Of Striking Differences Between English and American Sport Systems.

OXFORD, England, Dec. 20 (AP)—On a recent fine Saturday afternoon, when Americans crowded football stadiums all over their country, only a few quiet spectators went to the trouble of watching the Rugby game between Oxford and Edinburgh. comparable one might think, to a Harvard-Princeton battle.

This contrast in attendance is one of the striking examples of the difference between sport systems in America and England. Here in Oxford nobody has a well-paid football job to lose, so nobody cares if the stands are not packed. Rugby football is the chief autumn sport with nearly a hundred intercollegiate games and three or four varsity games weekly, yet no one has a Rugby job except a number of elderly men who push rollers and take tickets. Paid coaches are unknown.

In the cricket season a great professional is permitted to set up shop behind the pavilion and instruct all comers in the mysteries of yorker and googly at the reasonable rate of two shillings an hour. Unpaid graduate coaches appear for the last few days of training for the varsity boat race. Often they are elderly clergymen who pulled mighty oars in their day and now come back for a holiday and the brief resurrection of their old fame. The Oxford boxing team trains in a private gymnasium and takes its instruction from a professional at the usual rates.

The money that goes to a professional does not come from a common athletic fund, it must be shelled out of the pocket of the student taking the instruction. The athlete also pays for his outfit and his own railway fares. The Oxford athlete, far from being pampered, has to pay and pay pretty handsomely for the privilege of representing the university. Success in any one of the three major sports, Rugby, rowing and cricket, costs him several hundred dollars.

Gate receipts for sports are never great, even in the popular Rugby game, partly because of the low admissions charged, but chiefly because the members of the university are too busy playing games themselves to watch anyone else. Not infrequently two out of every three men in a college play in organized sports. Many play their games well. It is assumed that they have learned the rules and the tricks of their games from the game masters in their public schools, but this assumption is not always correct. Here at the university the rule of most sports is that a man who has not played before will be given a chance on a "second" team, but must be his own teacher. This explains why so few American Rhodes scholars, even though chosen in part for athletic ability, do well in the more exclusively English sports of Rugby and Association football, hockey and cricket. Rowing is a notable exception, for in rowing all newcomers are instructed in the particular style and method of their college by the captain and secretary of the colleges rowing club.

Each of the 24 colleges here is organized into a number of sports clubs. Finances are no trouble, since there are no expensive staffs to maintain and no training establishments. There is no great difficulty in arranging games away from each player pays his own expenses. Now and then a hitch occurs, as when some player fails to show for an away game. Such cases are not counted serious. The house team lends a player to the visitors. Sometimes the best player on the side is given to the visitors.

These arrangements, so different from the system of the great American universities, are certainly successful here. Whether they could be employed as satisfactorily in America at the present time is open to question.

IMPROVE ROADS GET TOURISTS

John R. Williams Speaks To Lenoir City Rotarians

LENOIR CITY, Dec. 20.—"East Tennessee can benefit more by through tourist traffic than any other section of the South, when good roads are a certainty," stated John R. Williams, editor of Appalachian Trade Journal and good roads advocate in speaking before the Rotary club and the board of trade.

Mr. Williams was invited here to attend the meeting of the Rotary club and the board of trade which met after the close of the Rotary meeting.

"The number of people going to Florida in automobiles has doubled during the past two years," he said.

"There is no reason why Knoxville cannot be advertised as Atlanta and Florida have been advertised. Knoxville has all the advantages of any other Southern city and fewer disadvantages," he continued. "And what helps Knoxville will benefit the people of Lenoir City and surrounding counties."

He said further that two-thirds of all the automobiles in Florida last year were from the middle west and that this section of the state should benefit from this through travel.

Giving a number of figures to show the need of good roads in East Tennessee in order to attract tourists Mr. Williams impressed his hearers with the necessity of action in this regard.

"Fifty per cent of all the automobiles in the United States are east of Mississippi and North of the Ohio," he said.

The Board of Trade discussed a number of things for the betterment of the community.

A committee was appointed to make arrangements about inviting other industries to locate here. Negotiations are to be entered into between the Board of Trade and one northern company in particular with a view to having a plant located here.

Seek Evidence In Teapot Dome Case

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 20. (AP)—Atlee Pomerene, special counsel for the government in its suit for the annulment of the lease of Teapot Dome, naval oil reserve, held by the Mammoth oil company today filed a motion with the United States court requesting the continuance of the hearing scheduled January sixth.

The motion was made on the ground that the government required additional time to obtain certain evidence bearing upon the alleged passage of Liberty bonds between Harry F. Sinclair, and Albert B. Fall, who as secretary of the Interior granted the Teapot Dome lease to Sinclair.

Coolidge Family To Have Quiet Holiday

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—Christmas at the White House will be quiet this year because of the death within the past few months of the younger son of the president. Plans for the observance of the day are simple.

The son, John, who is attending Amherst College returns Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stearns of Boston, Coolidge's closest friends, will come early in the week. The choir of the First Congregational church will sing carols on Christmas eve.

National Airs Jam Europe's Aerials

DANZIG, Dec. 20, (AP)—It is a strange medley of national airs which reach the ears of listeners-in in this free city on the Baltic between 10 and 11 o'clock each night.

Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia, equipped with powerful stations, hurl the strains of their national hymns over their borders. Berlin supplies Deutschland Ueber Alles, London broadcasts God Save the King, and Paris sends the Marseillaise.

Moscow has the loudest band and the best sending station of all, and every night at eleven o'clock it scatters the Internationale for three-quarters of an hour.

GOMPERS LEAVES ESTATE TO SONS

His Widow Will Receive Only The Minimum Amount Allowed By The Law.

TARRYTOWN, Dec. 20, (AP)—Samual Gompers left the bulk of his estate to his sons and grand daughters, directing that only the minimum amount allowed by law should be paid to his widow.

Dated November eighth of this year the will was accompanied by a mureilated copy. Another made previously had been torn across the face on which was written (I cancel and revoke this will). Under the cancelled will which was executed three years ago the labor leader, after providing for a number of specific requests left the bulk of the estate to the widow who at that time was his bride of five months.

Government Will Protect Pearl Beds

MANILA, Dec. 20, (AP)—The insular government has taken steps to protect the Philippine pearl beds and the pearling industry by ordering closed certain portions of the pearl fishing field around Mindanao and Sulu, during alternate periods ranging from three to five years.

This action is said to be preliminary to a thorough regulation of the pearling industry which the government contemplates undertaking after a survey of all the pearl beds in Philippine waters. The regulation of the industry by having open and closed seasons for fishing in various localities is urged by those engaged in the pearl fishing business on account of fears that the present beds in the Sulu seas may become exhausted in the near future.

Request Guards Be Sent To Kentucky Strike Area

Ask Aid In Enforcing Temporary Injunction Against Miners

DYNAMITE HOMES

Family of Superintendent Had Narrow Escape When Stick Of Dynamite Was Exploded In Their Yard.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 20 (AP)—The attorney general at Washington has been requested by telegraph to permit the use of extra federal guards for the western Kentucky coal mining strike area to enforce the temporary injunction against the union miners granted Thursday by the federal court here. Deputy United States Marshall Branes announced today.

The action followed the attempted dynamiting of the home of Robert Rolin, superintendent of the Rockport Coal company at Centertown, Kentucky, last night. It is reported that the Rolins family had a narrow escape when a stick of dynamite exploded in the yard.

The windows of the dwelling house were shattered but the details were not learned because of the wire communication. The state officials at Frankfort have not received reports of the dynamiting today because they were unable to reach Centertown by telegraph or telephone because the severe storms had broken down sources of communication.

ENGLAND HAS 41 PORTIAS

LONDON, Dec. 20, (AP)—When seven women candidates were called to the bar a few days ago they brought the total number of female barristers practicing in England to 41.

Among the 99 candidates called on this occasion were one American citizen and a citizen of Russia. No rule rests preventing foreign subjects from being called to the English bar.

POISON LIQUOR KILLS 31 PEOPLE

New York City Police Unable To Trace Poison Liquor To Its Source

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Poisoned holiday liquor either directly or indirectly caused the death of 31 persons in New York City since the first of the month, the city chief medical examiner reported today.

Special detail of police detectives have been unable to trace the poison liquor. The city officials fear that the alocholic death total will mount steadily through Christmas and the New Year's festivities. Lower East Side is reported literally flooded with the poisonous concoction which is labelled whiskey.

French High Prices Are Laid To Trusts

PARIS, Dec. 20, (AP)—Trusts, which heretofore have caused little loss of sleep to the French, have sudeenly become great bugaboos to the Socialists in the Chamber of Deputies. These business combinations, patterned on German and American methods, are coming in for some scathing observations during the debates on the high cost of living.

Trusts, said Deputy Compere-Morel in a recent speech, limit production and fix prices. He cited the diminishing number of firms in several basic industries to prove that graddually the big steel, fuel, electric, chemical and food firms are being organized.

This practice, M. Compere-Morel said, is resulting in France in the stifling of competition and an oppressive cost in handling goods. He gave figures on foodstuffs marketed in Paris to show that only a small proportion of the retail price went to the farmer, while half went for transportation, and the balance for handling and middlemen's profits.

RUM RUNNERS NOW SMUGGLE ALIENS

Tightening Of Immigration Laws Turned Bootleggers To Alien Smuggling.

GRAND FORKS, North Dakota, Dec. 20, (AP)—Tightening of the immigration restrictions has turned many erstwhile liquor runners to the less hazardous occupation of smuggling aliens into the United States from Canada, according to William Flynn, director in charge of this immigration district.

Two hundred men keep watchful eyes on some 1,200 miles of border line under Mr. Flynn's direction, and it is inevitable that this small force cannot keep under constant observation every mile of the line.

There are two principal methods employed in smuggling aliens, according to Mr. Flynn. One is for the alien desiring to enter the United States to work his way to some city near the border and then watch for an opportunity to walk across the border.

The other and more common method is for veteran smugglers to load an automobile with aliens and drive across the border, dumping them down at almost any place, with no particular regard as to the possibility of the aliens being taken into custody within a short time.

These smugglers invariably leave the alien with very little money, Mr. Flynn declares, and it is easy for the smuggler to average $100 for each person thus illegally transported. As a rule the foreigners are driven only a mile or two across the border, but occasionally they are taken to some town on the United States side, perhaps several miles from the line.

While deportation has been common practice, prosecution is being followed in this district and "is getting good results," Mr. Flynn said, as "the prospects of from three months to a year in prison is not so inviting to aliens as the mere prospect of being deported."

The alien runner has been known to make from $500 to $2,000 on one trip. Unlike the running of liquor, there is no original investment and no prospect of losing out, as he collects in advance from his "clients" and then dumps them at the first available spot without danger to himself.

Immediate Need For Clothing

The cold wave has increased the immediate need for warm shoes and clothing. Middlesboro, like every other city of its size, has its portion of the less fortunate who are not well supplied with the necessities of life. Suppose it was your sister your brother or your daughter, who perhaps had been visited by misfortune, would you not wish that someone give the necessary help? Let us then do by others and give abundantly to their needs. All who have articles of clothing to give may notify Mrs. P. T. Colgan, president of the parent-teachers association. Mrs. Colgan asks that all make an extra effort to supply articles immediately to the association. "While helping ourselves let us not forget to help others."

Prince Drives As Chauffeur Sleeps

LONDON, Dec. 20, (AP)—The numerous rounds of engagements which the Prince of Wales is called upon to fulfill often demand long hours of duty on the part of his servants and attendants, but the prince is uniformly considerate of them.

On one occasion the prince arrived home in the early hours of the morning after a busy day and told his chauffeur he would require his car at 7 o'clock as he wanted to go hunting. Detecting a shadow on the chauffeur's face the prince inquired the reason for it. The chauffeur replied that he would not have time to clean the car whereupon the prince replied with an encouraging smile:

"Well bring the car round at 7:30 Don't trouble to clean it, I'll drive and you can hop inside and have a sleep."

BETTER LAMBS MEETING JAN. 7

Tennessee Lambs Favorably Commented On This Year By Eastern Buyers

A spring lamb conference which every sheep grower in the state will be urged to attend will be held in Nashville, January 7, according to C. C. Flanery, Sheep Specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service, University of Tennessee.

Authorities in the field representing the State College of Agriculture, the State Department of Agriculture, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Big packers, and skilled growers will appear on the program. Programs for the conference are being printed and will be widely distributed throughout the state. The object of the conference is to stimulate interest in the production of better lambs in the state. For the first time in many years Tennessee lambs were favorably commented upon by Eastern Packers-Buyers on the Jersey City market during the 1924 marketing season. This, the buyers state was due to an improvement in quality which was marked this year and has been gradually getting better for about five years, according to Mr. Flanery.

Mr. Flanery and the county agents in six Middle Tennessee Counties successfully standardized 17,000 head of spring lambs with little or no loss last spring. Those lambs come so near to the high requirements of the packers that premium was paid for all lambs that weighed above 70 and not over 85 pounds and possessed the requisite quality and condition and were choice ewe and weather lambs. Lambs of this kind brought to the farmers an increased return of $1.72 per head over the common run of "neglected lambs" that were not docked and castrated. Probably the most noticeable and certainly the greatest return from standardization was a reduction of seconds from 30 percent in 1923 to 14.2 percent in 1924. This reduction amounted to about 50 percent.

To Cut Salaries Of Berlin Stage Stars

BERLIN, Dec. 20, (AP)—Highly paid stars and superstars of the Berlin stage are walking about with long faces these days. A drastic cut in pay is in the offing for them. Already the national federation of stage producers has agreed that the fees of stars must come down, and now the managers in the various cities are getting together to put the verdict into effect.

The Berlin theatrical directors have a great diversity of interests and viewpoints, and it is usually difficult to get them together on any proposition. They are unanimous, however, in agreeing, first that this year's theatrical season is the worst in years, and second, that the prominent stars are charging such exorbitant fees that prices of admission must be boosted to a point where the public cannot afford to patronize the theatre.

NEW NURSE FOR WELFARE WORK

Miss Fairy Settle Comes With High Recommendation.

Miss Fairy Settle, a gradnate of John Hopkins Hospital and a nurse of considerable experience, will come to Pineville the later part of this month to take over the work of the Pineville Associated Charities, according to word received Monday by the Rev. H. M. Frakes, secretary of the organization. Miss Settle will succeed Miss Frances Driesback, who resigned several months ago to accept a position in a large Louisville hospital.

Besides being a graduate of John Hopkins, Miss Settle took a course in public health nursing at Peabody and worked with the Kentucky State Board of Health for four months in the division of child hygiene. She comes to Pineville and Bel lcounty highly recommended by the State Board of Health and by the institutions she attended.

The Bell Fiscal Court at its last meeting agreed to pay the salary of a public health nurse provided she would work in the county as had been done in the past. Local supporters of the organization will assist in the expenses of the office and in such other ways as may be required.

Callison's Window Ranked First By Judges

Judging Was Based On Three Points and Worked Out By Average.

At the request of the Middlesboro Merchants Association, many of the retail business houses of the city made a special effort to trim their store windows for the Christmas season. To make the affair more interesting it was announced that a committee from the Lincoln Memorial University at Harrogate, Tennessee, would be in the city today to look over the windows and give them ranking. The committee which consisted of R. L. Kincaid, Prof. F. M. Andrew and Miss Myrtle Thompson worked most of the morning scoring up the displays with the decision that first place went to W. J. Callison for his window on furniture. John C. Burke with a window on jewelry carried off second honor. The committee also gave honorable mention to the Reams Hardware Co., Harry E. Verran, Sterchi Bros. and Tennent and the Middlesboro Hardware Company for the excellence of their displays.

"We found a great deal of difficulty in getting the judges to agree" stated Mr. Kincaid when he handed his report into the News office, "but we finally worked it out by general averages."

There were three points around which the judging was done—first, the representation of the products themselves. Second—the artistic value of the display and third the drawing power of the display." In fact we gave considerable emphasize on whether a window said to the passers by, "Come look at me," was the statement of one of the committee.

POOLE HOME SUFFERS FIRE

Girl Scouts Commended For Splendid Assistance Rendered

A disastrous fire broke out at the home of William R. Poole, 111 North 25th Street about ten o'clock this morning.

It was discovered by Mrs. Poole who went upstairs on an errand and noticed smoke emiting from the wall of the bathroom near the flue and also from the roof of the kitchen. It is not known how the fire started but it is supposed to have been caused by crossed electric wires or a defective chimney.

Mrs. Poole gave the alarm immediately and the fire department responded without loss of time. Neighbors and girl scouts also arrived and helped carry the furniture and personal effects to a place of safety.

The main part of the house was saved but considerable damage was done to a side wall and the roof. In fact the entire roof is probably a loss as the flames swept through the attic before the fire could be controlled and many of the joists are badly burned.

Much damage was also done to the side walls by water and smoke and considerable damage to the furniture from the same cause.

The group of girl scouts who responded are said to have worked at carrying out the things with such cool heads and great presence of mind as to excite the admiration of all.

When seen by a reporter this noon Mrs. Poole said: "Please say for me that I very much regretted not knowing the names of the girls I was able to thank one of the girls who had carried down more things than most grown people were able to for she moved with the quickness of youth and she did it all so quietly and unassuming but when I asked her name all she would say was 'I am a girl scout.'"

Mr. and Mrs. Poole had not decided this noon just where they will reside for the next few days until their home can be repaired.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

THAT it takes better business to make a better city.

THAT good business makes a busy city; lack of it makes a quiet city.

THAT a live city has good real estate values.

THAT values in a quiet city are usually so low that owners of real estate have to work hard to pay taxes.

THAT some cities seem like cities of the dead while others seem to be slowly awakening from a long, long sleep.

THAT when they are fully awake they will be able to see the open gateway to the road that leads to progress and prosperity.

THAT in telling the story of their city, they will find the words of the English language almost inadequate to express the many good things contained therein.

THAT their natural opportunities are so great that when their story is told it will attract the attention of the world. It will be a story of facts, not fiction.

IT WILL BE A STORY OF A DEAD PAST AND A LIVE FUTURE.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON—President Coolidge reasserted his claim to the title of "Cautious Cal" while on a recent week-end party with Roy West, secretary of the Republican national committee, and Senator Capper.

The party was scheduled for a cruise down the broad bosom of the Potomac, with perhaps a touch of salt water in the wider reaches of Hampton Roads or the lower Chesapeake Bay.

But by the time the Mayflower had cast loose from her moorings at the Washington navy yard, a stiff norwester was sweeping down across the hills of Arlington, kicking up ripples that occasionally broke into whitecaps at least two feet tall.

The wind shrieked through the rigging and banged at the potholes without the least indication that it knew it was the private yacht of the president of the United States.

So, after proceeding cautiously down the channel for a brief cruise, the Good Ship Mayflower dropped anchor for the night opposite the War College—almost two whole miles from her starting point!

ROYAL COPELAND, senator from New York, doesn't propose that his home state shall be given a back seat.

Copeland discovered the other day that the statue of George Clinton, New York's favorite son, in Statuary Hall had been placed in a remote and obscure corner where it was seen by few visitors. He at once began puling strings. And today the Clinton statue stands out in the front rank of the great whose greatness is preserved in the national "Chamber of Horrors."

For the guidance of those, who, unlike Copeland, are not conversant with Clinton's greatness, it may be proper here to say that he was a member of the Continental Congress, a general in the Revolutionary army, the first governor of New York, and twice vice president.

With the sole exception of John Calhoun, Clinton was the only man elected as vice president under two different presidents. He held that office under Presidents Jefferson and Madison. Calhoun was vice president under Presidents John Quincy Adams and Andrew Jackson.

WOODBRIDGE N. FERRIS, the "school teacher of the Senate," being the only member of the upper house with the degree of "Master of Pedagogy," doesn't, in spite of the fact believe too much emphasis should be put on "intellect."

"Undue emphasis has been placed upon the intellectual side of man's training," Ferris says. "We have utterly failed to conserve human nature in our attempts to emphasize intellect. We should give more heed to developing the instinctive, impulsive, emotional and sentimental in mankind."

DIGNITY does play havoc with the waist line. When Representative Fred Purnell of Attica, Ind., was a student at Indiana University in 1902, he was the school's champion pole vaulter.

The only flight Purnell would attempt now, other than a flight of words, would require a stouter pole than any used at track meets.

SECRETARY OF WAR WEEKS is a living exemplification of the old adage "Practice makes perfect."

When he entered public life 20 years ago John simply couldn't make a speech. But now, well—maybe he isn't the "perfect" speaker yet, but he's admittedly "good."

THE MONEY GIFT

The money gift is easy, there are hundreds who will pay.
And settle back contented while the workers toil away.
Men will dig into their pockets for the gold a cause may need
And then leave it for another to go out and do the deed.
But in every worthy struggle that shall help the race to climb
The world is always seeking for the ....men who'll give their time.
The money gift is easy, but a better gift than self,
Is to dedicate to service, not your money, but yourself.
For though gold and silver often are the things the cause demands,
No righteous cause can triumph without willing hearts and hands.
And in every field of service that is known to mortal ken.
You can hear the leader calling, not for money, but for men.
The money gift is easy, many pay the price
Who sit back in time of danger and refused the sacrifice.
There are men to give their money for a purpose that is fine
Who never share the burdens on the bitter fighting line.
But the man the world is seeking in the tasks it has to do
Is the man who'll share the struggle and stay with it 'till through.

Letters of thanks are being received from those heeding our advice to let their whiskers grow to cover Christmas neckties.

OPEN FORUM

SPOILED CHILDREN

Spoiled children who have too much appreciate everything, too little.

"Spoiled," I say.

There is a country, which with only six per cent of the world's population produces 23% of the world's coal, 31% of the iron, 64% of the steel, 19% of the copper, 65% of the petroleum, 60% of the cotton, 52% of the lumber, 41% of the shoes, 40% of the printing paper, the greatest indicator of the dissemination of information and knowledge.

In that country the six per cent of the people of the world own one third of the railroad mileage, three-fourths of the telephone and telegraph equipment and nine tenths of all the automobiles in the world. That country has movies, radios, phonographs, pleasure cars, hard roads, paved streets, sanitation, plumbing, electric lights, gas and marvelous mechanical devices which entirely left some and divide all the labors of men.

That country is the world's great est, richest, most country for all men, rich or poor, young or old, black and white, native born or foreign Protestant or Catholic, Jew or Gentile. That country is OUR OWN, AMERICA! As favored children of our Father we have grown calloused and restless of that and which are ignorant of the poverty and hunger in other lands. We are ungrateful for the many blessings of our Own United States.

A Christmas prayer—Let us give thanks for America. For the American standard of living and the American system of government, for the life, liberty, peace and prosperity of this great nation. We give thanks for this wonderful beautiful bountiful country of ours!

—FRANK DAVIS

FASHIONS & FOIBLES

by Shirley Sharon

Aprons, more decorative than domestic, are used by the French dressmakers for smart day frocks of the semi-tailored variety.

THE apron front is having a decided success on both sides of the Atlantic. It suggests the fashionable tunic line and gives a little more importance to a semi tailored frock without making it fussy or detracting from the straight narrow lines. The apron buttons on across the front and ties behind and the Paris dressmakers suggest leaving it on when the occasion demands the simplest possible one piece frock and trying it on again when you want to be a little more dressy. It is smartest in black alpaca, cotton broadcloth silk crepe or dark brown crepe laide with white organdy front and cuffs.

Olive Hill graded earth road, excellent now but bad in rainy weather. From Olive Hill to Morehead, finished gravel road in good condition for all year travel. From Morehead to Farmers is rock asphalt in excellent conditions. Farmers to Owingsville fair can be traveled any time. Owingsville to Mt. Road rough to Grahampton. Earth road from Grahampton thru Brandenburg, Irvington and Hardinsburg to Colverport, muddy during rainy weather. Cloverport to Hawesville, excellent gravel road; Hawesville through Lewisport to Maceo, excellent earth road but muddy in rainy weather. Stanley to Baskets graded earth road in good condition. Basket via Henderson to Corydon, gravel road in good condition. Corydon to Morganfield graded earth road, good condition. Gravel under construction.

Morganfield to Crittenden county line graded earth road under construction. No interference with traffic. Crittenden county line to Marion poor at all times but passable in dry weather.

CAR BUYERS LOOK FOR HOLIDAY GIFTS

Hudson Dealer Says The Growing Demand Is For Enclosed Cars.

With the holiday season here, motorists are looking lustily at automobiles for family Christmas gifts, and if the number of inquiries is a reliable index a whole lot of family groups are going to be pleasantly surprised Christmas morning. The search is almost wholly for enclosed cars, according to W. R. Hawkins Hudson-Essex dealer.

"The realization that this is the age o fthe enclosed car grows faster and faster," said Mr. Hawkins. "All our salesmen and associates report the same thing—the public has made up its mind to have enclosed cars. Naturally when they think of coaches they think of Hudson-Essex.

"The holiday buying of automobiles, like all holiday buying this year, is exceptionally active. There is a feeling of business confidence and cheerfulness—a feeling that a period of good times is here. So like the great department stores, automobile row is doing capacity business.

"We have just dug up some interesting dope on the history of coaches. The great story in their development has been the enormous reduction in manufacturing costs which they have made possible. We found for instance that the present Hudson Coach sells for $150 less than the first Essex coach and $450 less than the first Hudson coach. The present Essex coach sells for $600 less than the first Essex coach Yet it is a far superior car in both fundamental value and appearance.

"The story behind these facts is that the coach has become 90 per cent of Hudson-Essex business. Specialization is thus carried to a higher degree than in any other concern in the industry. At very frequent intervals Hudson-Essex has passed these various economies on the owners, and at each stage has been rewarded by a wonderful increase in business.

"The latest prices and values are the result of experience as well as specialization. for Hudson-Essex has built 180,000 coaches in three years."

Cranberry Sauce

One quart of cranberries, two cupfuls of sugar and a pint of water. Wash the cranberries, then put them on the fire with the water, but in covered saucepan. Let them simmer until each cranberry bursts open; then remove the cover of the saucepan, add the sugar and let them all boil twenty minutes without the cover. The cranberries must never be stirred from the time they are placed on the fire. This is an unfailing recipe for a most delicious preparation of cranberries. Very fine with turkey and game.

Jerusalem Bars Auto Horns

JERUSALEM, Dec. 20. (AP)—The growth of motor traffic in Palestine since the war has increased so greatly that the municipal government of Jerusalem has been compelled to take steps to curb the mad careening of automobiles thru the crowded streets of the cities. Also it will stop the harsh honking of horns, which are distasteful to a population accustomed to living in the medieval quaintness and quiet which were characteristic of the Holy City before its modernization began.

Decrees have been issued providing drastic punishments for speeding and reckless driving, and stipulating that after January 1, all automobile horns must be replaced by bells. The latter, the government declares, are more in character with the spirit of Jerusalem.

Popular song writer got married in New York. Serves him right.

Cranberry Sauce

2 cups cranberries.
1 cup of sugar.
1 cup boiling water.

Method: Stew together cranberries ,sugar and water. Remove skum; cook until thick. Chill, serve in sherbet glasses. This is a pleasant change from cranberry jelly.

TO REMOVE STOPPER

A little glycerine poured about the neck of a glass stopper that refuses to come from a bottle, usually lifts it out, particularly if you will let it stand for a while.

A sure sign of Christmas is when a boy would rather carry in wood then work cross word puzzles.

HOOVER SUMMONS EXPERTS TO GRAPPLE WITH A GROWING MENACE.

THE MOTOR CAR AS THE MODERN JUGGERNAUT

REPRESENTATIVES of many state and municipal governments, of organizations and of agencies directly interested in finding some way to reduce the ever-mounting number of automobile accidents are attending the great national conference which Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover has called to aid in solving the problem.

"Stop this now!" is the keynote.

Out of the conference it is hoped they come some corrective measures upon which all may agree as worthy of commendation to the nation for adoption.

Startling accident statistics and data have been compiled and laid before the meeting by a Committee on Statistics appointed some time ago by Mr. Hoover. Of this committee W. M. Steuart, Director of the United States Census, is chairman, and Dr. Julius H. Parmelee, Director of the Bureau of Railway Economics, is secretary. Estimates of the number of persons killed in motor car accidents in 1923 vary from 15,700, the figures given by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, to 19,462, given by the Hoover Committee. These do not include auto accidents resulting from collision with trains and street cars. These accounted for 2,800 other deaths in grade crossing accidents and for 2,006 in street car crashes.

DEATHS OVER 2000
GREATER THAN LAST YEAR

The present year now indicates that there will be more than 2000 deaths from the auto peril as compared in 1923. The increase will very likely amount to 3,000.

The number of those seriously injured, in addition to the fatalities, is estimated in the hundreds of thousands for the single year of 1923.

The money loss from automobile accidents has been estimated as high as $1,250,000,000.

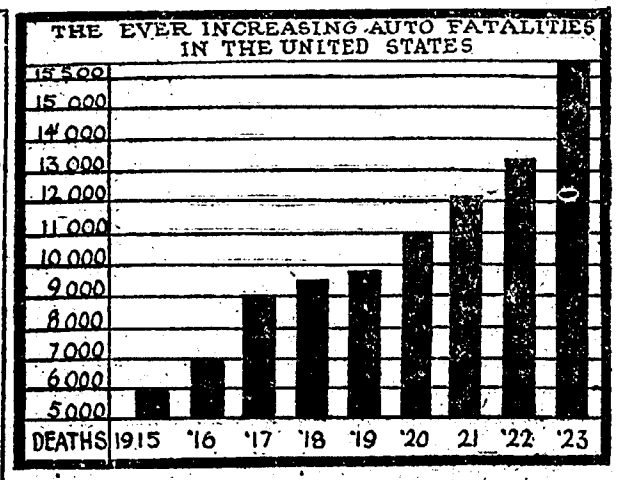
How to stop it? That is the question to which the Washington conference will try to find an answer.

Many suggestions, happily, are being submitted, for consideration, by police commissioners, automobile executives, railroad officials, insurance companies, highway and railroad commissioners and others.

Among these suggestions are four comprehensive plans turned over to Secretary Hoover, for consideration by the conference—three by Charles H. Holland, President of the Independence Indemnity Company of Philadelphia, which recently conducted a nation-wide prize contest among insurance men for the best suggestions, and the other by the Traffic Planning and Safety Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, of which George M. Graham, of Cleveland, is chairman.

KEYNOTE AT AUTO ACCIDENT CONFERENCE

HERBERT HOOVER
Secretary of Commerce



THREE PLANS CHOSEN FROM THOUSANDS SENT

The three plans for reducing automobile accidents which resulted from the prize contest conducted by Mr. Holland's company, were chosen from thousands submitted by insurance men in forty-six states, Canada, Panama and Hawaii. The Judges of the contest were three of the best known experts on traffic problems, Hon. Richard E. Enright, Police Commissioner of New York City; Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler, Director of Public Safety of Philadelphia, and Mr. W. H. Cattron, Managing Director of the National Safety Council, Chicago.

The plan which won the first prize of $1,000 provides for three major remedies, education, regulation and punishment. Every means of instilling not only drivers but every one, including school boys and girls, with the idea of caution and precaution should be employed. Standardization of regulations, uniformity of signals and fixed signal equipment are urged. The author of the plan advocates sterner measures of punishment for violators of laws and regulations.

A better regulation of city traffic, application of traffic regulations to pedestrians as well as to drivers, teaching traffic rules in schools, severer tests for auto drivers and the enlistment of engineers in devising new means of traffic facility were included in the plan which won the second prize of $500.

Only two ways to reduce auto accidents, through emphatic enforcement of present regulations and some outstanding yet practical appeal to human emotions were declared to be the answer to the problem by the winner of the third prize. This appeal might be through discrimination made in the color of license plates permitted car owners. For illustration, if a driver were guilty of carelessness, he would be required to turn in his regular license plates and display special red license markers for the period of a year. Thus he would be branded, in a sense, with the "scarlet letter."

From the Traffic Planning and Safety Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce come eleven corrective suggestions. This committee, like the prize winners, lays emphasis upon the need for wider education in traffic matters and in the importance of caution.

The committee first advocates more frequent presentation of accurate statistics about auto accidents, in order that the causes of accidents may be better known.

NEED FOR COMPILATION OF ACCURATE FIGURES

Its program of education includes community education through newspapers, posters, radio talks and other media; education of the child through drills, moving pictures, prize essay contests and otherwise; education of the adult pedestrian and education of the driver.

Development of standardized signals are urged by the Chamber's committee, as in the case of one of the plans submitted by Mr. Holland. In order to help reduce accidents at railroad grade crossings, the committee would have all motorists stop before crossing railroad tracks.

Better city planning, highway planning, formation of Safe Drivers' Club; and vigorous punishment for traffic regulation violators are also included in the committee's schedule of suggestions.

MAGDEBURG, Dec. 19 (AP)—Negotiations have been completed between the Hellas Swimming club of this city and a number of American swimmers of renown for a series o faquatic matches and exhibitions in German cities, including Madgeburg, Berlin, Hanover, Leipsig, and Munich next year.

Among the American athletes who are to come to Germany are Johnny Weissmueller, the world champion; Skelton of Chicago, victor in the Olympic games at Paris; Warren Kealoha, champion backstroke swimmers, and possibly Al White, who holds the jumping and diving record.

It is generally assumed in German sporting circles that the American champions will combine the German engagements with a tour of Spain, France, Holland, Czechoslovakia, Austrian and Hungary.

Rare U. S. Stamps Bring High Prices

LONDON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Sir Nicholas Waterhouse's famous collection of American stamps was auctioned in London recently and realized $68,500. Many of the stamps will remain in England, but a large number will return to America. Elliott Perry, of New Jersey, paid $1,425 for a ten cent block of 1851 stamps with originally cost Sir Nicholas about $4.50.

Another rare block of eight five-cent brown stamps of the issue of 1847, realized $2,750, and was purchased by Philip Ward of Philadelphia. Seven years ago this block was bought by Sir Nicholas for $100. Among other high prices was $500 for a five-cent blue, $975 for a thirty-cent ultra marine and jale carmine, $450 for a fifteen-cent blue and brown, and $375 for a twenty-four cent purple and green.

VIRGINIA SCHOOL GAIN

Virginia public shcools gained nearly twenty points in educational efficiency from 1918 to 1922, according to calculations of Dr. Frank M. Philips, of George Washington University, appearing in the American School Board Journal. In rating all the states by index numbers he used the same factors used by Dr. Leonard P. Ayres, of the Russell Sage Foundation, in rating the states for 1918.

Under the 1922 rating, the last to be made, Virginia is given an index number of 51.56, out a possible 100, as compared with 35.26 in 1918. This state is thus given a rank of 39, instead of 40, among the forty eight states and the District of Columbia, and for the first time in a score of years leads Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

TO TEST LAW

Whether a man has to keep quiet when he hears that officers are about to raid the place of a friendly moonshiner or whether he is but exercising his right to freedom of speech when he gives warning is a question which will probably be raised in the circuit court of Wise county, Virginia, I. S Mullin, Virginia state prohibition inspector, today to Attorney General Saunders that he had arrested Medford Lane, of Wise for giving moonshiners a friendly tip

The state prohibition law seeks to seal the lips of all persons when a raid is about to be made, but many lawyers have expressed the opinion that this provision of the law would not stand up under attack in the courts

FEWER SCHOOL BUILDINGS

The number of public school buildings in Virginia is diminishing, although the average daily attendance of pupils is increasing, Dr. W F Sanger, secretary of the state board of education, pointed out today This is because the one teacher school is becoming a thing of the past, education progress demanding larger and better school buildings, he said

In 1910 the total number of public school buildings was 6,843. Today the total is 6,563 The daily attendance of children in 1910 was 417,785 During the fourteen-year period mentioned the number of one teacher schools decreased from 5,369 to 1,630.
